

Employee Management System – Console Application

Develop a Java console-based application named Employee Management System using Object-Oriented Programming concepts. The employee data must be hardcoded in the application.

Hardcoded Employee Data

ID	Name	Age	Department	Designation	Reporting To
1	Sriram	45	Management	CEO	-
2	Mukund	42	HR	HR Manager	Sriram
3	Sebastian	38	Finance	Finance Manager	Sriram
4	Aashritha	32	Product Management	Dev Manager	Sriram
5	Mohammad Rafi	35	HR	HR Lead	Mukund
6	Anjali Kumar	29	HR	HR Associate	Mohammad Rafi
7	Joseph	40	Finance	Finance Associate	Sebastian
8	Ramachandran	27	Product Development	Team Lead	Aashritha
9	Abhinaya Shankar	23	Product Development	System Developer	Ramachandran
10	Imran Khan	28	Product Testing	QA Lead	Ramachandran

Main Menu

1. Display All Employees
2. Filter and Update Employee Details
3. Manager Operations
4. Exit

Model 1 – Display All Employees

When the user selects this option, display all employee details.

Model 2 – Filter and Update Employee Details

When the user selects this option:

Step 1 – Apply Filters

Numeric Filter Operations

Operations
Equal
Not Equal
Greater Than
Less Than

String Filter Operations

Operations
Equal

Not Equal
Contains
Not Contains
Starting With Ending With

After applying one filter: Display filtered employees Ask user whether they want to continue filtering If yes, apply the next filter only on the already filtered list

Step 2 – Update Employee Details

After filtering, allow the user to update employee details. Choose employee by ID Select field to update Enter new value Display updated employee details Fields allowed for update: Name Age Department Designation Reporting To

Model 3 – Manager Operations

Feature 1 – Display Employees Under Manager

Allow the user to enter a manager name and display all employees reporting under that manager.

Feature 2 – Promote Employee

Allow promotion of employees by updating their designation.